THE TORNIO RIVER VALLEY INVITES YOU TO VISIT

ORIGINAL LAPLAND is a chain of small businesses operating in the Tornio River Valley, on the border between Finland and Sweden where Finns, Swedes and the Sámi live together. In addition to Finnish and Swedish, people in the region speak Meänkieli, a distinct dialect of Finnish that has borrowed words from Swedish and Sámi.

Through its centre runs the world's friendliest border: The Tornio River separates states but connects people. Crisscross from Finland to Sweden and back – it couldn't be easier.
